"This supplemental text is concise and focused on practice. Exactly what students need to learn to code. They are presented logically, which flows with both the CPT and ICD-9 books. The comparisons between ICD-9 and ICD-10 will satisfy the preparation needed to prepare students and current medical billers for the conversion. The content is complete and will greatly encourage success on the CPC."Mary Elizabeth W. Browder, M.Ed., Associate Professor, University of Cincinnati - Blue Ash"Excellent as a supplemental text to give students a chance to practice coding skills and can be used to complete the required CAAHEP competencies."Lorraine Schoenbeck, MS, CMA (AAMA), Medical Assisting Program Director/Professor, Lone Star College - North Harris

Alice Covell, CMA-A (AAMA), RMA, CPC, is a partner with Covell and Harwood Company, a Kalamazoo, Michigan-based consulting firm. She consults with physician practices and healthcare facilities on coding issues, billing compliance, and office management. Ms. Covell is also popular presenter on coding issues at seminars.

I purchased this workbook because the teacher said it was the one she used for my coding class. Works perfectly with the ICD-9 coding book and helps to clarify how and why to code for medical diagnoses. Very easy to use and has some essential guidelines to follow for each chapter in the ICD-9 book. Recommended.

Love this book, gives me the practice I need.

My instructor is using this alone (IvyTech) with no textbook. I find it odd they would produce a workbook that doesn't have a book associated with it. So I'm struggling trying to find the answers without any kind of reference material. I wish the author had suggested some textbooks to go along with the workbook...It is titled a workbook after all. A lot of the problems don't provide enough information and when you check the answer, (odd numbered questions are answered in the back) you cannot figure out how in the heck they arrived at it even knowing what the answer is. My instructor cannot figure it out either.
