Customer Reviews

Up front, I was offered a free copy of the Stay Safe Crime Map of San Francisco and was asked for a review. I get a lot of review requests and rarely take authors up on the offers (I just have too huge of a To-Be-Read pile). But this guide caught my eye. What a useful idea! I have a Kindle Fire and read the maps on it. The maps are very clear, easy-to-read and use, with a limited zoom feature. There is a larger map with areas delineated and marked with their common names - e.g. Fisherman's Wharf, Telegraph Hill - and breaking the city into more manageable chunks. I do wish each individual map had the identifying name PLUS the number on it so I didn't have to flip back and forth to identify areas. The contents page IS interactive and able to take you directly to each area with a click. The crime areas are marked with crosshatching. It would be helpful to have different crosshatchings to show what TYPE of crimes are most predominant in a certain area. But this is a great start. There is also a section on general safety at the end of each guide. Helpful addition. I liked this guide so much I bought guides for: Stay Safe Crime Map of Baltimore; Stay Safe Crime Map of Washington DC; Stay Safe Crime Map of New York City; and Stay Safe Crime Map of Las Vegas. It was interesting to see that large cities internationally, such as London and Paris, are represented too. I would hope that with buying the guides I also get free updated information on each city. Plus, personally I would love to get guides on Denver and Portland. I would also think these would be very sellable in hard copy brochure form, clear coated, for old school people without smartphones, etc. Also, the maps are easy to read on my Fire but I wonder just how clear they would be on a much smaller screen, such as a smartphone.

In every major city, there are shady places we should avoid, especially if we are not use to the city.
