CRITIQUE/NO SPOILERS : I haven't read the novel yet however the millisecond downloads to my iPad continue to thrill! I recommend the series to not just fantasy readers but also for the curious mix of world heritages, history and contemporary youth issues hidden beneath the action and dialogue. Additionally if your core values are sensitive to pre-teen and teen morals, there are several areas of concern in this series for you TO SERIOUS CONSIDER BY PRE-READING. My daughter, now 22, was never subject to censure as an individual due to her early mental maturity and our close discussions of all things taboo. These books are written at their core for younger readers by their very nature and are extended over too many books for the overall content. With that said, some of the content contains very well described events with rich skill, also an attraction for me and giving me the interest to read another take on vampirism.

When you have good authors, great characters and an excellent understanding of your readers then having a successful book is not difficult. House of Night continues to be an excellent series involving us with the great array of fascinating people that walk its pages, and capturing our attention as the fight against Darkness continues. The characters grow and change coming into their own but I must confess that as good as this is I feel it is close to the time to finish the series or perhaps grow them up a little more, a difficult feat as it is young adult fiction. The events are now becoming borderline stereotyped and my desire for the next book is still there but the impatience of the past is no longer present. In all though, a great book and worth the reading. Long live Zoe!!!!

There's nothing better than a series that keeps you on your toes. This installment in the HON Series is no different. I blew through it in no time and loved every minute of it. When Neferet seems to have lost everything, she takes matters into her own hands. Zoey and her friends are in a bind and must get help from even those they don't trust. There's only so much Zoey can take and the Seer Stone is becoming a pain. Seeking the truth yet not knowing who to turn to when she believes she sees her ex-boyfriend from HS, it's all Zoey can take when it comes to the men in her life. While her heart wants to believe one thing her head is telling her it cannot be real. There's a light at the end of the tunnel for everyone and Neferet had it coming when she kidnapped someone beloved by all of Zoey's friends. It's one thing to take away a family member that's already blew you off, it's quite another to threaten someone as close to Zoey as her grandma. Absolutely loved this installment to the series! Moving on to Neferet's Curse.

Addicted to the series. Always a good read. I love me some supernatural. I do like the author's style of writing, which feels natural and compatible to the way we talk and think. Good character development. Love the fact that the author references modern icons, movies and events. Story lines are interesting and filled with drama and edge of your seat excitement and anticipation. I do love to hate the villain and this one is evil. Only negatives are ones that waste good story space and time, such as, the repetitive descriptions of past events and characteristics of people and then the romantic events or inner insecurity issues can definitely use some editing as it can, in places, be blah blah blah....tedious and over descriptive for what is needed. I usually just skip over these sections and get back to what's really happening with the story. There are also some typos here and there that bug me on rare occasion because I wish I could just fix them myself! Oh, and though the length of these books are typical, I would love if some authors would just make books that are seriously think again, like 500 pages or more! Other than that. I highly recommend this series. You won't regret it.

So these last two installments, Destined and Hidden were disappointing they didn't have the thrills and twists as books 4 - 8 did. And I liked having the dark feel to them that these other books had but these last two felt as if I were again reading Marked and Betrayed. The only parts that gave me chills were Neferets scenes but I'm getting tired of the whole Neferet thing the Cast's have to do something new cause this is getting boring and a little predictable I was also upset because the Cast's really didn't throw any new storyline at my favorite couple, Stevie Rae and Rephaim. And Stark is one of my favorite characters but it's kinda hard to because he's in love with Zoey. So the only character that helped me make it to the end of these two books especially this one was Kalona. And are you serious they brought Heath back. Do they not understand that really no one liked him so why is he back? I guess he was just one of those characters that no one likes except the authors. I mean don't get me wrong he is a nice and sweet guy but boy is he an idiot and that's what makes people not like him. The only thing that was a twist in Destined was what happened to Dragon. This book really was just a book to make money out of. The only thing that was interesting was what was going on with Kalona. This book really didn't do anything to change the storyline. They just brought back the stupid boy drama and Kalona is now on the right path and fighting for Light instead of Darkness, only thing was the sucky timing that he got excepted back, because he had to save Sylvia but was unable to because he could not get rid of Darkness. And Erin is taking the wrong path. And after all this stupid drama I'm done with this series you won't catch me buying any other books from this series, but hey the jokes on me because I brought 10 of these dam things. I have never given up on a series but I had to on this one. I don't care what happens to the characters, I just don't anymore, enough is enough. I don't care if there's just two more books left they are milking this series for as much as they can get. And now while I put these books in the attic the Cast's are laughing while throwing and swimming in hundred dollar bills. Plot Zoey has finally exposed Neferet's evil to the High Council and they are no longer on her side. But she's far from done creating havoc. Everyone must stand together if they wanna defeat Neferet but that's proving to be hard because the twins are barely speaking and Kalona has become their warrior, pushing their trust to the limit. To top it off Zoey believes that when she looked through the seer stone at Aurox that she saw Heath.
