Autumn's Display (Books For Dementia Patients) (Volume 5)

Synopsis

This is one of a series of books for dementia or Alzheimer's patients, seniors with trouble reading and others who would benefit with 'easy read' books that are formatted for adults. Autumn's Display offers self-esteem and self-confidence to former bookworms who now struggle with "regular" books. You'll know that you're buying a book that is perfect for a dementia or Alzheimer's patient, however the reader will only know that he/she is receiving a beautiful book that is eye-catching and easy to follow. Neither the title nor any text on or in the book states that the book is for dementia or any type of memory/cognitive problems; It is truly concealed so that the reader is not insulted. This book contains: A lovely "easy read" story without condescending childlike words. Perfect, slightly larger text (16x font). 7 Short chapters. Short paragraphs. One extra space between each sentence to encourage the mind to take pause. 1 to 3 gorgeous full-color photos per each chapter to give a visual clue to the subject matter without distracting the read. Autumn's Display is a light, happy read that centers on a woman's walk through a park on a beautiful autumn day. The reader will discover charming sights throughout the book. The sole character of the story (an adult woman) strolls along and spies not only beautiful leaves, but also a young girl with a charming sense of humor, a lovely Scarlet Tanager bird, a charming Red Squirrel and an endearing Beagle puppy.

Customer Reviews

"Exceptional series that promotes pride in book ownership for seniors with reading struggles.

Happy, upbeat and superb short stories with remarkably vivid photographs." - Faye Dunningham

If you have a loved one with Alzheimer's disease, dementia or senior reading troubles, this book is just what you've been looking for. Other books in this series include: What the Wind Showed to Me, The Sandy Shoreline, A Dusting of Snow, Three Things and Down by the Meadow.

I purchased this to read to mother who has Alzheimer's. I was kind of surprised at how thin the book was, more like a booklet, so I was disappointed, but only until I read the first couple of paragraphs to my mother and had her chuckling and laughing. Such a wonderful reaction. The story line is simple for her to follow and extremely descriptive. We read two chapters the first night, reread those the next night with a third chapter, we will continue until we are finished and we will enjoy every word. The book held her complete attention and we talked about how much we love the sights and scents of autumn. I had also purchased A Dusting of Snow, but came with a printing issue and was not readable so I returned it and cancelled because I had not yet seen my mother's reaction to this book. I will be reordering that book.

I was excited to see a book about autumn by this author because A Dusting of Snow is my nana's favorite book by her! Like the other L3 books, this is a short story with an easy to follow storyline and pictures. It is great to see another book about the seasons because it is relatable for my nana with dementia and she is familiar with the scenery in autumn " this might become her new favorite.

Wonderful book! My loved one is in the later stages of dementia but enjoys this so much, he reads it over and over. Funny thing is, he never read books before his dementia. I am getting all the books in this series, wonderful to see him happy.

A great short story book, perfect for a senior with reading trouble. Photos are bright, text is large but its written for an adult. Good boost for someone wanting to be proud of owning books.

bigger size text for the elderly. this book is written in short chapters like a child's bigger book. easy reading
