Synopsis

How to Make $100K Out of College is a book that will teach you the insider secrets of how to make a six-figure income within a few years out of college FOR THOSE WILLING TO PUT IN THE WORK! This book takes the collective experience from multiple individuals working on Wall Street and some of the biggest companies in the world – ultimately leading them to making $100,000 at an early age – and we™ll teach you how to get those same results. Some of the steps you learn may seem different from what you have heard from teachers, parents, and peers – in fact, they may be the exact OPPOSITE of what you have learned up to this point in your life. But here™s reality – the advice given in this book is directly from the mouths of people WHO ARE ACTUALLY MAKING OVER $100,000. and they all accomplished that goal at a young age. We didn™t hold anything back in this book. We gave you everything, including entire interviews from many people in all types of industries and backgrounds so you can pick and choose what lessons will best serve you.

Kevin Quinlan is an author, consultant, speaker, and serial entrepreneur, with more than a decade of experience across the retail, consulting and education industries. Kevin holds a bachelor™s degree of Business Administration from James Madison University and a master™s degree in Career & Technical Education from Temple University. After graduating, Kevin went into management consulting where he led initiatives with government agencies, including The United States Aid for International Development and the State Department. He started his first business in 2012, where he was a subject matter expert on alumni career paths & directly responsible for an elite consulting firm's business development with Fortune 500 companies. He is also the Co-founder and President of the National Youth Mentor Academy, an organization that teaches students how to get into college, pay for college and create a career of passion out of college. Since launching the business, he has helped over 900 students with his programs. In 2016, he wrote his first book, How to Make $100K Out of College, which won the award of #1 New Release and hit the best seller list in three separate categories. In addition to his business endeavors he is also very active in his community, volunteering as a wish granter with the Make-A-Wish Foundation. In his free time, Kevin enjoys travel and golf. Wes Rowlands is a recognized and successful author, businessman, speaker and entrepreneur. While earning his finance degree at Drexel University in Philadelphia, Wes held 10 internships with top financial institutions, including working on the floor of the stock exchange. This experience ultimately led him to his dream career on Wall Street. After spending 11 years gaining industry experience, Wes decided to follow his passion and co-founded a company that helps families with college- and high school-age children plan for college and their careers. In addition to running the company as CEO, Wes spends a portion of his time speaking to schools and institutions on topics such as leadership, career development, and finance. Delivering lectures to thousands of students, parents, teachers and executives, Wes has presented across the country, focusing on his passion of teaching students how to avoid the two biggest problems facing their generation today - student loan debt & no job! Wes is on a mission to help one student at a time to take responsibility and graduate into a successful future.

Reasons why this book is great - simple, straight forward, clear, organized, and engaging. This is no "power of intention" or "get rich quick" book. The authors are honest about the hard work and dedication it takes to reach your financial goals, but lay out the process in a way that's approachable and achievable. What I love is that the authors aren't just using their own anecdotal experiences, it's obvious they put in the hard work of researching and interviewing others, so you (or your child, or your students) don't have to. No matter what your financial goals, this is an excellent framework for how to approach your career in general.

How to Make $100k Out of College is an excellent book for any high school, college student, or recent college graduate that wants to take control of their career path and immediately begin working towards a rewarding work experience. Kevin & Wes do a great job breaking down the steps any student can (and should!) take in order to find professional success. The book is written in a fun and engaging manner which makes this book an enjoyable read. Not only do Kevin & Wes draw from their own experiences, but I love how they included interviews from other successful professionals that have "walked the walk".

This book was excellent! The book is written in a conversational format providing some great key takeaways, the way it's organized really helps to lay out the groundwork that I need to be successful in my career. The authors do a great job of creating an easy road map for students and professionals with the motivation and drive to be successful. Working in higher ed, I can say this is something curriculum is often lacking as far as giving students a step-by-step guidebook to reach their career goals. I'll definitely be sharing this with some of the faculty around campus. It provides key tactics for students get a jump start on what steps to follow in order to avoid being stuck with loans forever. I especially enjoyed reading about the importance of building relationships and finding a mentor - and found the concept of filling your "mental blind spot" to be eye opening. An easy and informative read, would highly recommend.

Must read for any college student, recent college grad, or young professional looking to build a long term career path. It gives simple guides and tips throughout the book that makes you think of your career in a different way and also helps you start planning for it in small steps prior to graduating. For the young professionals looking to switch professions or figure out how to climb the corporate ladder, it has great interviews for real life experiences and how to get through those hurdles for raises and promotions. Highly recommended!

How to Make $100k Out of College is a great resource to open your mind and view different paths which led to ultimate success. The interviews in the book were great and I recommend reading and re-reading it to pick up the gems of knowledge from within!

If you want a quick way to 100k, play the lottery. That's really a terrible idea don't do that, you'll most likely only lose your money. This book is about hard work, dedication to a passion, a great work ethic and attitude and it shows with the way it was written and that is also what it teaches. The steps necessary to succeed in many career paths are outlined in real world scenarios. This is a great read for any student, recent graduate, professional feeling stuck in a current role or position, or even anyone who already may be making great money.

This was an easy read that gave excellent advice. As a 30 year old I can still use some of this information moving forward. I wish this would have been around when I was graduating college!

When I first saw this, I thought it was going to be pretty hard to follow, but I was completely wrong thankfully. Unlike some other books I've read on this subject, these guys don't just talk a big game and add in a bunch of useless filler information. They cut straight to the heart of the matter on how to be successful and lead you through the process with no detail left out. After reading this, I'm much more confident about reaching my goal of 100K! I will definitely be recommending this to all of my friends.
