This book was so poorly written. Not about the ins and outs of FBA but more like a "Hey, does this thing called FBA, you should go check it out". It has large type and only about 100 pages so it should be an easy read but the grammar was so bad I had to finally give up halfway through after this...and I quote "Knowing that a person is a part of , they will most likely choice to return there for their products, and they will then be able to see your product." Not worth the money and more importantly, NOT worth your time.

is the world's largest online retail selling site. When most people buy something on , they think they are buying from . But, third party sellers sell over 45% of all items sold on . As an individual seller charges you 15% Selling commission plus 99¢ per sale. The fee to become a professional seller is $39.95 per month, but as a pro seller you are only charged 15% --and not the extra 99¢. So, if you sell 40 items per month or more, you will actually save money on fees. I've now been selling on for nearly two years. All new posts related to selling and private labeling are on my new site PrivateLabelPreneur.com. This is still a very relevant post to read so don't miss it! If you're interested in following my journey, come on over and get on the email list! I've also expanded/updated my Resource list, you can find it here.
