Roger Priddy's passion for educating children through fun, informative and engaging books has led him to create some of publishing's most enduring and successful nonfiction early learning books. Roger lives in London and has three children, who have been the inspiration behind many of his best publishing ideas.

Bought this for our 4 yr old. She loves that she is spelling words and working on her letters. It loses a star because there is no place to store the pen so it gets misplaced. We rigged up a way to tie it to the book but otherwise it's perfect.

Awesome write and wipe book. I need activities to keep my son occupied on a long road trip and he will love this. I love the price, quality and that I can reuse it throughout the year for homeschooling.

This book has sturdy pages for writing and comes with a very fine point tipped dry erase marker. For beginning learners, a wider marker might be better. The marker does not erase with a dry eraser. We need to use water and paper towel to clean. A wet wipe might work too. This has 3 lines for upper and lower case practice, categories of words, and blank sheets toward the back.

Great handwriting book!!! My son loves this book. It is what is says a great way to improve reading confidence, spelling, and handwriting skill.

great for my granddaughter to not only practice nice printing but practice simple spelling words during the summer

This was a birthday gift for my grandson who is 4 and likes writing on walls. I thought this would be the perfect gift to have fun and learn. His mom says he loves it.

Great book for practice learning sight words.

My son love this book. It will be useful for a long time
