The Ghost Hunter Next Door: A Beechwood Harbor Ghost Mystery (Beechwood Harbor Ghost Mysteries Book 1)

Synopsis

The first rule of being a ghost whisperer: Don't tell anyone. Seriously. Don't. Sure, it might sound harmless. A fun party trick, even. I assure you, it's not. How do I know? Well, let's just say that I've had a lot of experience with this sort of thing, and nine times out of ten, it turns into an all-consuming disaster. Being plagued by needy ghosts twenty-four/seven is one thing; being harassed by a horde of curious—or worse, grieving—flesh-and-blood people is an entirely different circus. I mean really, who wants to hold an impromptu séance in the middle of the cereal aisle? Not me, and the manager of the grocery store probably isn't too crazy about the idea, either. So, that's it. If you're a ghost whisperer, just keep your mouth shut and act normal. Ghosts? What ghosts? Now, if only I would start listening to my own advice.

The Ghost Hunter Next Door is the first book in the Beechwood Harbor Ghost Mysteries series. Perfect for fans of Angie Fox and Kristen Painter.

A new member has arrived in Beechwood Harbor, Scarlet the ghost hunter! She was introduced in a Beechwood Harbor: Magic Mystery book and is briefly mentioned as someone who has a ghost support group at her flower shop. Scarlet was a world traveler due to her ability to hear and see ghosts. They bother her so much that she has to escape them by visiting different countries. One ghost liked her so much, he followed her from England, he (Hayward Kensington III) and Scarlet's cat (I should add that he's a ghost as well) Flapjack make her little family. They live above the flower shop that she has just opened. Scarlet is excited and a little nervous about life in her new hometown, as she hopes to keep her ghost skills under the radar. One night at her ghost support group (Scarlet's way of handling the ghostly requests) a crazed ghost appears, screams, breaks her glass door and issues a demand, 'You are going to help me!' and with those words, Scarlet is on a journey to stop a TV show from remodeling the ghost (Rosie) residence, The Lilac House. With the help of Lucas, the guard for the TV show and the ghosts, Scarlet must stop Rosie before she starts hurting people! This is a fun and exciting new character to the Beechwood series of otherworldly creatures. It looks like Holly the witch will end up showing Scarlet how to find out if she's a supernatural as well. I look very forward to reading more about the ghost whisperer!! A must read!

Fun!!

Very enjoyable

I have read and enjoyed all the Beechwood Harbor books that Danielle Garrett has written. I was delighted to find this new book~sort of a spin-off~about a ghost whisperer in the same town. A slight cross over of characters made it all seem very real to me! The main character in this book is Scarlet and she owns a flower shop. Unfortunately she sees ghosts all the time, and they have infiltrated into her life, not always peacefully. When a TV production company buys a property to renovate and turn into a bed and breakfast, they get a little more than expected in the form of one very p.o'd ghost. This ghost (Rosie) claims her fiance murdered her weeks before the wedding when she found him and her maid of honor, Wendy, at home in the bedroom during the day. For twenty years she has scared everyone away from the property. For twenty years she has been angry and plotted revenge. When Rosie learns of Scarlet's abilities, she forces herself on Scarlet and issues ultimatums. Worried about the crew's safety, Scarlet tries to solve the twenty year old mystery of Rosie's death. Of course there is a handsome guy who actually believes in Scarlet's abilities to help out as she tries everything possible to keep her promise. This fast moving, well written book was entertaining up to the very end. I didn't expect what happened. I had a hard time putting the book down while reading, it was so captivating and enjoyable. I recommend it for a good and different paranormal mystery.

This isn't a bad little cozy. Despite the name, if you are expecting a 30 foot Pillsbury doughboy, though you won't get it. This is not Bill Murray's Ghostbusters. However, it's got a nice entertaining romance, a sweet heroine and even the bad guy ghost turns out to not be so bad. (She was actually the murder victim and is understandably irked at the world). The heroine solves the murder mystery and the Ghost goes to a ghostly happily ever after. We don't get a real resolution to the romance either though. The hero travels, so it remains to be seen if he sticks around for the series. As a cozy, I would give this book four stars. As a ghost story, I have to rate it a three (the ghosts are NOT scary; a talking pet cat, and the town gossip?), but if you like your ghost stories on the light side you'll love this one. Three Stars.

Love all the Beechwood Harbors and this one was just as good and fun to read. You have Scarlet who just lost her grandmother and her inheritance was for Scarlet to open her own flower shop. Scarlet can also see and talk to ghosts. So when a scary ghost shows up at the flower shop threatening harm to others Scarlet sets out to solve the mystery of who the ghost is and what happened to make her this full of rage. Couldn't put this book down. Real page turner. You get ghosts, a murder mystery and romance. I voluntarily received an advanced readers copy of this book and loved every page of it. Looking forward to the next one.

Danielle Garrett's "The Ghost Hunter Next Door: A Beechwood Harbor Ghost Mystery" (Beechwood Harbor Ghost Mysteries Book 1) is an urban fantasy with paranormal ties. Scarlett just wants to keep a low-profile while she adjusts to her new life in Beechwood Harbor. Through her twenties, she became a world traveler who saw a lot, but at the same time, she was running away from the ghosts that wanted to take advantage of her gift. Her solution to over-demanding ghosts is to hold a weekly support group in her floral shop. But when a local historical house is being renovated for a television show its ghost goes postal, and demands Scarlett's help, or else. Overall, I enjoyed reading this new series by Danielle Garrett. It's not 100% necessary to read the first series, but I recommend doing so to fully appreciate this new series. I look forward to reading the next book in this series and can't wait until it is released.

This was fun! Scarlet is a wonderful character with a really big problem on her hands. Wrangling ghosts usually comes pretty easily for her, but this particular door-smashing spirit has the personality of a diva gone wild crossed with a pit viper. Remaining cool and helping this violent spirit takes quite a bit of hard work and lots of compassion. Did she trip and fall down the stairs or was she pushed? Solving this mystery is the only way to keep humans out of harms way. An exciting read.
