Dutch Armies Of The 80 Yearsâ€™™ War 1568â€™“1648 (2): Cavalry, Artillery & Engineers (Men-at-Arms)

Synopsis

Throughout the 16th Century, the Spanish had an aura of invincibility. They controlled a vast colonial empire that stretched across the Americas and the Pacific, and held considerable territories in Europe, centering on the so-called "Spanish Road." The Dutch War of Independence (also known as the 80 Years' War) was a major challenge to their dominance. The Dutch army created by Maurice of Nassau used innovative new tactics and training to take the fight to Spain and in so doing created a model that would be followed by European armies for generations to come. The second in a two-part series on the Dutch armies of the 80 Years' War, focuses on the cavalry, artillery, and engineers of the evolving armies created by Maurice of Nassau. Using specially commissioned artwork and photographs of historical artifacts, it shows how the Dutch cavalry arm, artillery, and conduct of siege warfare contributed to the long struggle against the might of the Spanish Empire.

I went back to the primary sources - the diaries, notes and histories penned down by the military men who've shaped and experienced the war. That has resulted in some interesting discoveries (skirmisher corps, infantry guns, cavalry tactics, etc) and the rediscovery of many forgotten battles. The two volumes combined are the most comprehensive and historically correct description of the men, equipment, organisation and tactics of the Dutch army of the 80 Years' War (1568-1648). The two volumes combined have: detailed combat drill of the infantry (vol 1) and the cavalry (vol 2), 8 new and several period diagrams (showing how units deployed), a table with artillery specs, 16 colour plates (showing 21 infantry, 12 cavalry (4 mounted), 2 guns, and 32 banners, flags & pennons), more than 80 contemporary black & white illustrations, 2 maps (the same map: in vol 1 showing battles, in vol 2 sieges), 2 chronologies (in vol 1 the 120+ battles, in vol 2 the 150+ sieges) and a regimental genealogy (in vol 1).

Bouko de Groot has a BA in Art History and an MA in Egyptology. He is Dutch and currently lives in Germany. He has served in the army and is a published author of a number of academic, popular scientific and business journalistic articles. When not writing about current affairs, he continues to study and write about military history. Gerry Embleton has been a leading illustrator and researcher of historical costume since the 1970s, and has illustrated and written Osprey titles on a wide range of subjects for more than 40 years. He is an internationally respected authority on 15th and 18th century costumes in particular. He lives in Switzerland, where since 1988 he has also become well known for designing and creating life-size historical figures for museums.
